INTRODUCTION

This is the University's policy relating to the calculation and payment of tuition fees for Australian students.

An Australian student:

- is an Australian citizen or permanent resident; or
- holds a permanent Australian humanitarian visa; or
- is a New Zealand citizen.

If you are not an Australian or New Zealand citizen or an Australian permanent resident and you do not hold a permanent Australian humanitarian visa you should refer to the separate publication, 2010 International Student Tuition Fees.

It is important that you read this policy before completing your administrative enrolment. Once you enrol, you will be bound by this fee policy and are agreeing to pay tuition fees for every year in which you are enrolled.

This policy applies to Australian students:

- enrolled on a fee-basis in an undergraduate, graduate coursework or graduate research course;
- enrolled in Community Access Program subjects.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What fees do I pay?

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

In 2010 you pay tuition fees based on the particular subjects you choose to study. The amount you are charged is the sum of the fees for all subjects in which you enrol.

Subject fees are set within a fixed number of fee bands based on the Australian Government Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations discipline classification of the subject, with different prices charged for undergraduate subjects, graduate subjects and Community Access Program study.

For details of the 2010 subject discipline fee bands and how to calculate your tuition fees see pages 2-5.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

Students commencing a graduate course in 2010 will pay a course based tuition fee (except for courses offered by the Office of Environmental Programs). Continuing students who commenced their graduate course prior to 2010 will continue to pay subject based tuition fees.

Graduate course based fees (commenced course in 2010)

The amount you pay is listed on pages 7-10. This amount is the fee for all students commencing in the course in 2010. The fee listed is per EFTSL; if you are studying more or less than one EFTSL in 2010 your fee will increase or decrease proportionally.

Graduate subject fees (commenced current course prior to 2010)

The amount you are charged in 2010 is the sum of the fees for all subjects in which you enrol.

Subject fees are set within a fixed number of fee bands based on the Australian Government Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations discipline classification of the subject, with different prices charged for undergraduate subjects, graduate subjects and Community Access Program study.

For details of the 2010 subject discipline fee bands and how to calculate your tuition fees see pages 2-5.

STUDENT SERVICES AND AMENITIES FEE

The Commonwealth Government is likely to introduce a Student Services and Amenities Fee from 2010. Details of the fee will be provided after legislation has been passed and full details are known.

What is an EFTSL?

An EFTSL (equivalent full time student load) is a measure of study load. One EFTSL is equivalent to 100 credit points and represents a standard annual full time load.

If my tuition fees are paid on a subject basis, how do I know which discipline band applies to my subject?

Every subject at the University has been assigned to a discipline fee band. Details can be found in the Subject Fee Calculator at <http://fee.acs.unimelb.edu.au/>

Will my tuition fees ever differ from the published fee?

The subject and course fees detailed in this publication relate to 2010 only.

No guarantee is provided on limits to fee increases for undergraduate Australian fee students. Previous fee increases for Australian students are shown below (percentages are representative of average increases across all undergraduate subject discipline fee bands for each year given):

2009	5.1%
2008	5.0%
2007	5.0%

For students enrolled in a graduate course and paying a course based fee, the University provides a guarantee that the course fee will not increase by more than 10 per cent per annum.

When do I pay?

Tuition fee payments are made in advance. In 2010, you have three payment options: standard instalment; dual instalment or yearly instalment. Refer to the Payment Options section on page 11 for more information.

You will be sent an invoice for each fee instalment. It is your responsibility to pay your fees and complete your enrolment by the published date; otherwise a late fee will be levied. If your fees remain unpaid, your enrolment will be cancelled and you will then need to reapply for admission to the course. You will remain liable for any outstanding debt.

What is a census date?

The census date for a subject is the last date that you can withdraw from that subject without incurring fee liability.

Subject census dates for all University subjects are available in the Subject Fee Calculator at <http://fee.acs.unimelb.edu.au/>

What happens if I change subjects?

COURSE FEE

Your course fee will only change if you change your study load (EFTSL). If you increase the number of subjects in which you are enrolled or change to subjects of a higher weighting your fee liability will increase. If you reduce the number of subjects in which you are enrolled or change to subjects of a lower weighting you may decrease your fee liability and may be eligible for a refund however you must have withdrawn from subject(s) by the subject census date or you will be charged for the original study load.

SUBJECT FEES

Changing to subjects in different fee bands or changes to study load will result in a change to your fee liability (refer to Variation to Fees Owing section on page 11).

If the subject you add to your enrolment is charged at a higher rate than the one from which you withdraw, additional tuition fees will be payable. Alternatively if the subject you add to your enrolment is charged at a lower rate than the one from which you withdraw your subsequent semester's tuition fee will be credited or you may apply for a refund (refer to Refunds section on page 11).

If you withdraw from a subject you must do so by the census date for that subject or you will be charged for the subject (refer to Variation to Fees Owing section on page 11).

2010 SUBJECT FEES

Except for Australian students beginning a graduate course in 2010, students enrolling at the University of Melbourne in 2010 in an Australian fee place will pay tuition fees based on the particular subjects they choose to study.

Undergraduate, graduate and Community Access Program subjects have been grouped into fee bands, based on the cost of teaching the subjects and the demand for the discipline in which they fall. The amount you are charged is the sum of the fees for all subjects in which you enrol.

What if I transfer to a new course?

If you transfer to a new graduate course, the fees you pay will be those set for the new course into which you enrol.

For undergraduate students transferring to a new course, the fees you pay will be those set for the subjects into which you enrol at the time of transfer.

What if I defer my studies?

If you have an offer to study at the University in 2010 and you defer your studies until 2011, the fees you pay on commencement will be those set for 2011.

What if I have a query about my fees?

You can find information about fees at <https://portal.unimelb.edu.au> under the Admin tab or contact SMS-Enrolments (refer to Fee Queries section on page 12) or your Student Centre.

The discipline fee bands that have been set for Australian students in 2010 are detailed in Tables 1–2. The discipline fee band tables below set out the basis for calculating your fees but do not necessarily represent a typical enrolment. These discipline fee bands are determined by the content of the subject, not the course of which it forms a part, nor the faculty or school which is responsible for teaching it.

CALCULATING YOUR TUITION FEE

Undergraduate

The fees shown in Tables 1 and 2 are for each 100 credit points (1 EFTSL) that you undertake. 100 credit points is a standard full-time load for one year of study. Fees are charged based on the EFTSL value of the subject in each semester. For example if a subject is worth 12.5 credit points (0.125 EFTSL) then the fee charged is 0.125 multiplied by the $/EFTSL fee.

All year-long subjects are required to have their fees paid in full in semester 1. For example, if a year-long subject is worth 37.5 credit points (0.375 EFTSL) then the fee is charged as 0.375 multiplied by the $/EFTSL fee in semester 1.

The total fees you will pay in any year are the sum of the subject fees for all subjects in which you are enrolled.

For details of the EFTSL value and discipline of every subject at the University see the Subject Fee Calculator at <http://fee.acs.unimelb.edu.au/>

Example

Michelle is an Australian student who enrolls in a Bachelor of Science in 2010. She enrolls in a total of 100 credit points (1 EFTSL), comprising 8 subjects:

- 4 science subjects (12.5 credit points each);
- 2 commerce subjects (12.5 credit points each); and
- 2 maths subjects (12.5 credit points each)

Michelle's tuition fees for 2010 are calculated as:

$$(4 \times 0.125 \times $26,750) + (2 \times 0.125 \times $23,700) + (2 \times 0.125 \times $22,900) = $25,250$$

Graduate coursework

The fees shown on pages 7-10 are for 100 credit points (1 EFTSL). Each subject that you undertake has an EFTSL, or credit point value; 100 credit points is a standard full-time load for one year of study. For example, if you undertake 8 subjects worth 12.5 credit points each (0.125 EFTSL) then your total study load for the year is 1 EFTSL and you will pay the amount listed. If you undertake more or less than 1 EFTSL in a year the amount charged will increase or decrease correspondingly.

Example

Nathan is an Australian student who enrolls in a Graduate Certificate in Wine Technology and Viticulture in 2010. He enrolls in a total of 50 credit points (0.5EFTSL) in Semester 1 and completes his degree.

Nathan's tuition fees for 2010 are calculated as:

$$$18,850 \times 0.5 = $9,425$$

Graduate research

Fees are based on the workload (EFTSL) you undertake in each semester. Research semesters differ from coursework semesters in that semester 1 is defined as 1 January to 30 June (six months) and semester 2 is defined as 1 July to 31 December (six months). You will be charged on a daily pro rata basis.

Adjustments for commencing research students

If you enrol after a semester commencement date, your first semester fees will be adjusted to take account of the number of days you will actually be enrolled.

Example

Therese is an Australian fee student who enrolls in a Master of Music Therapy (by Research) in 2010. She starts her degree on 1 January with a workload of 0.5 EFTSL. Therese's Semester 1 tuition fee is calculated as:

$$$13,650 \times 0.5 = $6,825$$

However if Therese did not commence until 20 March, her tuition fees would be adjusted to take account of the fact that her first semester will be of only 103 days duration. This means she will only be charged from 20 March, thus her tuition fee will be calculated as:

$$$13,650 \times 0.5 \times 103/181 = $3,884$$

Tuition fees for students commencing in semester two

If you are commencing your course in semester 2, 2010, your fees for your first semester of study will be those applying in 2010. For the first semester of 2011, the fees you pay will be those approved for the 2011 academic year.

Tuition fees for students who commenced their course in 2004 or earlier

Australian fee students who commenced their course in 2004 or earlier are able to complete their study under the fee policy that applied at the time they commenced their course (known as 'grandfathering'). However, in a small number of cases this may be less advantageous for students than the policy that was introduced in 2005.

In light of this, existing Australian fee students will be charged the lesser of the fees associated with the 2005 fee policy and the fees calculated in accordance with the policy that was in place at the time of their commencement.

Each semester the fee that would have been charged under the policy in place when they first enrolled and the fee that the student would be charged if they had enrolled after the introduction of the new policy (1 January 2005) will be calculated. The student will be charged the lesser of the two amounts.

If a student commenced their course prior to 2004 and remains on the grandfathered (original) fee policy this policy will apply only for:

- undergraduate courses: the standard duration of the course as defined when the student commenced the course plus a further year; or
- graduate courses: twice the normal full-time duration of the course as defined when the student commenced the course.

Any periods of leave of absence or part time enrolment do not extend the above time frames.

If the student takes longer than the above time frames to complete the course they will be required to move to the current fee policy and must pay the fees applicable at that time.

If the student transfers to another course they are subject to the current fee policy and must pay the fees applicable at the time of transfer.

Students whose enrolment is terminated either for poor academic performance, disciplinary grounds or for failure to re-enrol in a timely fashion, if readmitted at any future time, will be required to pay fees according to the fee policy applicable at the time of readmission, not the policy that applied under their original enrolment. This also applies to students whose enrolment is terminated for unpaid fees or other outstanding debt and who are ineligible for reinstatement.

Tuition fees for Australian graduate students who commenced their course in 2009 or earlier

Australian fee students who commenced their graduate course in 2009 or earlier will complete their study on a subject fee basis as per the fee policy that applied at the time they commenced their course. Discipline fees for graduate subjects will continue to be set each year and these will apply in the usual manner.

This will apply for as long as the student remains enrolled in the same course. If the student transfers to another course they are subject to the current fee policy and must pay the fees applicable at the time of transfer.

Students whose enrolment is terminated either for poor academic performance, disciplinary grounds or for failure to re-enrol in a timely fashion, if readmitted at any future time, will be required to pay fees according to the fee policy applicable at the time of readmission, not the policy that applied under their original enrolment. This also applies to students whose enrolment is terminated for unpaid fees or other outstanding debt and who are ineligible for reinstatement.

Tuition fees for Australian graduate students who commenced their course in 2007 or earlier

For Australian graduate students who commenced their course in 2007 or earlier and who remain in the same course, the following exceptions to the graduate discipline fees published in Table 2 on page 3 will apply in 2010.

Discipline fee band	Fee for 100 credit points (1 EFTSL)
Arts, foreign languages, humanities, social studies	$ 14,025
Built environment, science (except optometry), surveying	$18,950
Engineering	$24,375

Tuition fees for Australian graduate students who commenced their course in 2008

For Australian graduate students who commenced their course in 2008 and who remain in the same course, the following exceptions to the graduate discipline fees published in Table 2 on page 3 will apply in 2010.

Discipline fee band	Fee for 100 credit points (1 EFTSL)
Arts, foreign languages, humanities, social studies	$ 15,320

How to calculate your Community Access Program tuition fee

The actual fee charged for a subject depends on the EFTSL value of the subject.

For details of the EFTSL value of every subject at the University of Melbourne go to <http://fee.acs.unimelb.edu.au/>

The total fees you will pay in any year are the sum of the subject fees for all subjects in which you are enrolled.

Discount on Community Access Program fees for alumni

University of Melbourne alumni who wish to enrol in an undergraduate subject through the Community Access Program are eligible for a discount of 20 per cent on the standard price (applies to subjects taken in both assessed and non-assessed mode). More information about the discount is available from www.unimelb.edu.au/alumni/benefits.html.

ARRANGEMENTS RELATING TO THE PAYMENT OF FEES

Payment options in 2010

When you enrol, you will be asked to select one of three instalment options for payment of your tuition fees:

1. Standard instalment option – one payment for the semester or study period cost (this is the default option)
2. Dual instalment option – the semester or study period cost is halved and payable in 2 equal instalments
3. Yearly instalment option – one payment for the cost of the full year in advance. This option attracts a $200.00 rebate.

Payment of instalments is required by the due date listed on your invoice (or if you enrol after the due date, within 7 days of enrolment).

Year-long subjects

The full subject cost is incurred and payable in semester 1. If you only enrol in year-long subjects you may wish to consider the following two instalment options:

- yearly instalment (one payment made in semester 1 for the full cost of the year in advance); or
- dual instalment (two payments made in semester 1).

You normally use the same instalment option throughout a calendar year and can change your instalment option at the commencement of each new year.

The dual instalment option is not available for:

- summer semester;
- non-standard semesters;
- Community Access Program enrolments;
- Study Abroad enrolments.

All instalment options require at least one payment in advance of the commencement of classes. If your circumstances change significantly in a given year, you may contact SMS-Enrolments to request a different instalment option.

Due dates for payment

The due date for payment of your tuition fee instalments will be displayed on the electronic invoice available via the Student Portal.

Invoices

Your tuition fees will be charged based upon the fee policy in place in the year you commenced your course. The amount you will have to pay will be based upon the course or subjects you have re-enrolled in, your chosen payment option and any monies credited towards your account. Your invoice will be available online, via the Student Portal, prior to each due date.

For students paying by instalments, the due dates for instalments will be available via the Student Portal and advised on the online invoice.

It is your responsibility to ensure payments are made by the date specified on your invoice. If your fees remain unpaid, a late payment fee of $100 will apply. Your enrolment in your course will ultimately be cancelled if payment remains outstanding. Your enrolment may also be cancelled if you have other outstanding debts such as library fines. Cancellation means that your enrolment will lapse and you will not be able to use any facilities at the University. You will remain liable for any outstanding debt.

If your enrolment has been cancelled for non-payment of fees and you wish to be reinstated to your course, you are required to apply for reinstatement to SMS-Enrolments. A reinstatement fee of $100 will apply, and payment of all outstanding fees will be required before reinstatement. Applications for reinstatement must be made in the same semester in which your enrolment was cancelled.

If you anticipate a problem in meeting a fee payment deadline, please contact SMS-Enrolments well before the deadline to discuss possible alternative arrangements.

Variations to fees owing

If you change subjects or study load after paying the first instalment for a semester, there may be a variation in your tuition fees owing for that semester. Any additional fees must be paid by the due date indicated on your online invoice. Any amount owing to you will be credited towards your next fee instalment or can be refunded on lodgement of a refund request. You should check your invoice via the Student Portal after changing subjects to verify if any additional fees are due or have been credited.

Refunds

If you withdraw from one or more subjects (including course discontinuation or leave of absence) the University will refund some or all of the tuition fees you have paid in advance if you give timely, formal notice.

Notice given of subject withdrawal	Refund
By close of business on the census date* for the subject	A full refund of all the fees you have paid in advance for that subject.
After the census date* for the subject	No refund will be given for subjects with census dates that have passed.

* The census dates for standard semester 1 and semester 2 subjects are 31 March and 31 August respectively. Census dates for other teaching periods may vary. Census dates for the subjects in which you are enrolled are detailed on your Enrolment Record and the census date for every subject offered by the University is published in the Subject Fee Calculator at <http://fee.acs.unimelb.edu.au/>. If a census date is not a working day, then you must complete your subject withdrawal by the last working day before the census date.

Applying for a refund

If you change your enrolment any monies owed to you will automatically be credited to your account and will be applied towards any future fees. If you prefer a refund, applications can be obtained from <http://studentadmin.unimelb.custhelp.com> (search 'refund') or from your Student Centre.

Refunds should be applied for within 12 months of withdrawal. If you intend to change your enrolment, to be eligible for a refund, you will need to notify the faculty administering your course before the subject census date.

Payment of refunds

Before you can be paid a refund:

- the University must have received the money that is to be refunded and must have entered this money into its accounts, that is, cheques cleared, telegraphic transfers received etc.;
- you must repay/settle any other debts owing to the University, such as library fines, student loans; and
- your course or subject cancellation must have been processed.

Refunds:

- will be paid only to you, the person you nominate, or to the sponsoring agency paying fees on your behalf;
- will be paid by cheque or Electronic Funds Transfer;
- will be provided in Australian dollars as an international bank draft to your overseas address or as a telegraphic transfer (foreign currency can be arranged on request);
- will be paid within 15 working days of receipt of your application.

Special provisions for graduate completions

Adjustments after the submission of a thesis by postgraduate research students

Tuition fees will always be charged in advance. If you intend to submit a thesis before the end of a semester, you will be entitled to a refund depending on the date of submission. Once you submit your thesis a refund of fees will be calculated on a daily pro-rata basis.

Example

Robert is an Australian fee student enrolled in a Master of Visual Art (by Research) in 2010. He commences semester 2 on 1 July and is undertaking a normal workload of 0.5 EFTSL. Robert's semester 2 tuition fee is calculated as:

$$$13,950 \times 0.5 = $6,975$$

He submits his thesis on 13 September (before the end of semester). He will be charged only from 1 July to 12 September (74 days). Thus his actual tuition fees are calculated as:

$$$13,950 \times 0.5 \times 74/184 = $2,805$$

He is entitled to a refund of $4,170 ($6,975 – $2,805)

Extension of research candidature

If you are a postgraduate research student who has been granted an extension of your candidature, you will continue to be charged fees for the next full payment period.

Late submissions of a minor thesis by postgraduate coursework students

If a minor thesis is part of your work requirement for a given semester, you should submit this before the start of the next semester. If you are not able to do this then you must re-enrol in the same subject for the next semester and pay the tuition fees for this subject again. If you have completed the thesis and submitted it prior to the subject census date you can apply for a refund. If you do not complete and submit the thesis prior to the census date you are not eligible for a refund of fees.

Policy amendments

Goods and Services Tax (GST) does not currently apply to tuition fees. Should this change, the University reserves the right to charge GST in addition to the published fee.

The University reserves the right to amend this policy as required. Any changes will be notified in writing.

Fee queries

If you have any fee queries you can find information at www.studentadmin.unimelb.edu.au or alternatively contact staff at SMS-Enrolments or your Student Centre.

Students who have a grievance or dispute with the application of this policy should direct this to the General Manager, SMS-Enrolments in the first instance. This does not circumscribe a student's right to pursue other legal remedies with respect to grievances or disputes regarding the application of this policy. This agreement does not remove the right to take further action under Australia's consumer protection laws.

This fee policy came into effect for all students from 1 January 2010.
